for the 2014 MATSITI National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander School Leaders Forum

More Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Teachers Initiative

A Deadly Journey!

Promoting our people into school leadership

Thursday-Friday 16-17 October 2014, The Menzies, Sydney

www.matsiti.edu.au/events/leaders

The More Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Teachers Initiative (MATSITI) Project invites Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander principals and deputy/assistant principals leading and working in schools to attend this exciting event.

A limited number of places for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander teachers who are currently participating in a formal and structured leadership development program will also be supported to attend this forum.

The forum will connect Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander school leaders from across Australia and New Zealand to discuss and shape a leadership agenda for our people.

Forum themes will include:

- Australian National Standards for Principals
- Balancing professional and community/cultural obligations
- Mentoring and career development for the next generation of school leaders
- Learning from international leadership experiences
- Shaping an effective professional leaders network
- Growing and supporting our current and future school leaders
- Influencing Indigenous education outcomes and policy

A Deadly Journey forum convenor is MATSITI Director Professor Peter Buckskin: Dean, Indigenous Scholarship, Engagement and Research, University of South Australia.

The forum program will be posted to the MATSITI website in July.

Places are limited - register your interest at www.matsiti.edu.au/events/leaders
